

JODI VANDER WOUDE
FREELANCE MAKEUP ARTIST

Her model good looks and cool sense of style puts you at ease immediately. "There's something comforting about getting beauty tips and a makeover from somebody whose appearance alone tells you she knows what she's doing," explains one satisfied customer. "She doesn't treat you like just a person in the chair." As a contributing producer to Playboy for 14 years, Jodi has been the makeup artist and stylist for many Playmates and Hef's seven girlfriends. Besides photo shoots, Jodi is the best at "making the most of your natural assets" and "disguising any flaw." The key to her success? "I try to get to know the person," Jodi says. "Once you figure out what they're all about, their lifestyle, their career, and how they like to be perceived, doing their makeup is easy." Her fans have purchased first-class airfare to bring her to far-away weddings and events. "Makeup today is more about making the most of women, making them beautiful and glamorous." These days, Jodi is working to perfect makeup for the new technology HDTV. "The old ways don't work. High definition television cameras show every flaw, every line, and every stroke of a makeup artist's brush." For an appointment, call 245-1277. From $250.

[THE VISAGE VISIONARY]